

Arya Nair – 3rd Year CSE Student:

“It felt like a mini music festival and street market rolled into one! I loved the vibe, the stalls were so aesthetic, and the DJ set at the end was insane. Please make this a regular thing!”

Ramesh Varghese – Local Artisan Vendor:

“This was one of the best-organized campus flea markets I’ve participated in. The students were super helpful, the footfall was amazing, and I completely sold out my pottery collection by 4 PM!”

Rahul D’Silva – Book Bazaar Visitor:

“Loved the book stall! Picked up 5 novels for just ₹200 and even swapped two of my old ones. The whole space had such a cozy, indie vibe—perfect for bookworms like me.”

Diya Thomas – Art Gallery Exhibitor:

“As a student artist, getting to display my work to such a big crowd was surreal. I even sold three of my canvases! The feedback I received has motivated me to keep creating.”

Anish Mathew – Event Volunteer:

“Behind the scenes was chaos, but the good kind! Seeing everything come together—from stage setups to managing crowd flow—was so satisfying. Proud to have been part of the organizing team.”

Jiya M – Food Stall Owner (Waffle Wonders):

“We didn’t expect such a huge crowd! By 1 PM we were running low on batter. It was hectic but totally worth it. Can’t wait to be back next year with an even bigger menu!”

Sharon Kuriakose – Alumni Visitor:

“Came to campus after 3 years and walked into this explosion of colors, creativity, and energy. So much talent on display—made me wish we had events like this when I was a student!”

Nikhil Raj – Open Mic Participant:

“Got to perform my original poem and the crowd actually snapped and cheered! Such a chill and encouraging atmosphere. 10/10 would do it again.”
